Family Friday: Finally, A Stylish Stroller

By Clara Sedklak

Finding a fashionable stroller is close to impossible. When I had my twins, I spent a month searching for just the right one—something functional that wouldn't sacrifice my already waning style. Who would have guessed that New York's The Mark Hotel, in partnership with Maclaren, would develop what might possibly be the chicest one I've seen?

Check out the black-and-white ride above. Am I right? The Mark Hotel Baby Stroller is available for hotel guests starting April 15. I just hope they roll it out to the public soon. We moms need it.
