

May 6, 2014

Wintour and Others Walk It Out at The Mark Hotel Before Last Night's Met Gala

By Juliana

She's so fancy, but you already know...

After last year's disastrous cutting edge punk party, the Costume Institute Met Gala at The Metropolitan Museum of Art, co-chaired by Vogue's Anna Wintour, took on a more refined air this year with the "White Tie and Decorations" theme. Celebs and models alike came to the event dressed in the best of the best couture but probably left a little lighter in the pockets as tickets start at $25,000.

http://www.hotelchatter.com/story/2014/5/6/04933/19571/hotels/Wintour_and_Others_Walk_It_Out_at_The_Mark_Hotel_Before_Last_Night's_Met_Gala

http://www.hotelchatter.com/story/2014/5/6/04933/19571/hotels/Wintour_and_Others_Walk_It_Out_at_The_Mark_Hotel_Before_Last_Night's_Met_Gala Before hitting the red carpet, the pretty faces and bold names strutted their stuff outside The Mark Hotel, the traditional pre-Met Gala party spot. Here's a look at what Anna, Posh and Becks, Bradley Cooper (another co-chair!) and our girl crush Lupita Nyong'o were wearing last night.

We heart everything about this picture. She can do no wrong.

While the tickets to the Met are out of your price range, the rooms at The Mark are "only" $695 a night for a superior queen room.

[Photos: Rob Kim/Getty Images via The Mark Hotel]